

Gabby Logan MBE

Journalist, Broadcaster & Podcaster

"Gabby had the distinction of being the first ever host of the televised BAFTA Craft Awards for the Millennium"

Gabby Logan, one of the UK's leading broadcasters, A dedicated professional with a fantastic sense of humour, she has presented the BBC's Olympic Games, Commonwealth Games, and football World Cup coverage, and, most recently, covered the ground-breaking 2022 Euros featuring the Lionesses historic win. A prolific writer, she's been a columnist for The Times and has previously written for The Independent, The Guardian, Glamour, and Stylist Magazine.

TOPICS:

- Presenter
- Host
- Conference Facilitator
- Awards
- After Dinner
- Health & Wellness
- Menopause

IN DETAIL:

A former international gymnast, Gabby began her broadcasting career in radio in 1992 and joined Sky Sports in 1996 where she quickly established herself as one of their key presenters. She joined ITV in 1998 and during her time at the channel Gabby's repertoire expanded and her presenting credits include The World Cup, Champions League, Premiership and the Boat Race. In 2004 she hosted Sport Relief for the BBC before joining the corporation in 2007. Gabby's recent focus has been to educate and encourage dialogue about the Menopause and mid-life topics she regularly covers on her podcast, The Mid-Point, and in her debut memoir, The First Half.

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Gabby Logan offers vast media experience having presented a range of sports programmes. One of the UK's premier sports broadcasters, she is in demand for award ceremonies, motivational speaking and personal appearances.

PUBLICATIONS:

- 2023 Podcast: The Mid.Point
- 2022 The First Half

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Gabby Logan is a natural, vivacious and charismatic sports personality with a fantastic sense of humour that adds energy and prestige to any event. Her funny and insightful anecdotes provide an entertaining, informative and motivational addition to a conference or a lively alternative at the end of dinner.

