

Natalie Fee

Award-Winning Environmental Campaigner

“An inspiring sustainability advocate”

Natalie Fee is an award-winning environmental campaigner, author, and speaker, known for her innovative work in tackling plastic pollution and promoting sustainable living. As the founder of City to Sea, a non-profit organisation dedicated to reducing plastic pollution at source, Natalie has spearheaded impactful campaigns that have garnered international recognition and led to significant changes in consumer behaviour and corporate practices.

TOPICS:

- The War on Plastic: Reducing Plastic Pollution
- Sustainable Living: Making Eco-Friendly Choices
- Ocean Conservation: Protecting Marine Ecosystems
- Innovative Solutions for a Greener Future
- Activism and Advocacy: How to Make a Difference
- The Role of Businesses in Environmental Sustainability
- Connecting with Nature: The Importance of Biodiversity
- Climate Change: Understanding and Addressing the Crisis
- Education and Outreach: Engaging Communities in Environmental Action

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

The organisation's campaigns, such as Refill and Plastic-Free Periods, have been instrumental in reducing plastic waste and raising awareness about sustainable alternatives. In addition to her advocacy work, Natalie is a prolific author, offering practical advice on living more sustainably. In 2019 Natalie won the Sunday Times Volvo Visionaries Award for her campaign work, and in 2018 she was listed as one of the UK's "50 New Radicals" by The Observer / Nesta. In the same year the University of the West of England awarded her the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Science in recognition of her services to the environment. She won the Sheila McKechnie Award for Environmental Justice in 2017 for City to Sea's #SwitchtheStick campaign and is proud to have been named Bristol 24/7's Woman of the Year for 2018.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Natalie Fee is a dynamic and inspiring speaker whose passion for the environment is contagious. Her ability to connect with audiences and motivate them to take action is truly remarkable.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Natalie has a warm and engaging presentation style that resonates with a wide range of audiences. She uses relatable anecdotes and personal stories to connect with audiences.

